

The Susan M. Cochran Memorial Endowment for Faulkner Studies

—$1000 per year—

Created in memory of Columbus resident Susan M. Cochran and her dedication to studies of the great American author William Faulkner, the Susan M. Cochran Memorial Endowment for Faulkner Studies provides scholarship funding for high-achieving students majoring in English at Columbus State University to pursue their education in literary studies. This merit-based scholarship is $1,000 per year renewable for up to four years and includes an additional travel grant of up to $1,000 to attend the University of Mississippi's annual Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference in Oxford. Applications, which are due April 20th, can be found on the English's Department website (<https://english.columbusstate.edu/scholarships.php>) or may be requested from Dr. Patrick Jackson (see contact information below) along with any questions.

Eligibility and Selection Criteria

In order to be considered for the scholarships, applicants must

- Be an incoming student at Columbus State University
- Declare a major in English
- Sign a letter of intent to meet all requirements of the scholarship

Requirements for Renewal

In order to be considered for a scholarship renewal, awardees must

- Maintain a 3.0 grade point average while continuing to pursue a degree in English
- Enroll in a seminar or directed study course on Faulkner with CSU faculty member by or during third year of study
- Attend Faulkner and Yoknapatawpha Conference in Oxford by or during the third year of study

Contact

Dr. Patrick Jackson
Professor of English
English Department
Columbus State University
4225 University Ave
Columbus, GA 31907
jackson_patrick5@columbusstate.edu
(706) 565-1206

COLUMBUS
STATE
UNIVERSITY